PVH Corp.

How is the company performing?

COUNTRY OF HQ

USA

SELECTION OF SUBSIDIARIES

Calvin Klein
Van Heusen
ARROW
Speedo
Warner's
Olga
Tommy Hilfiger
IZOD
Geoffrey Beene
True&Co

Overall Score	Policy	Uptake	Traceability
35.9	13.5	17.4	5

Where is PVH Corp. on the journey to sustainable cotton?

Company performance analysis

OVERALL

PVH scores 35.9 out of 100 points in this ranking (up from 18.1 in 2017), and is well on its way towards cotton sustainability.

POLICY

PVH addresses issues such as biodiversity and reduction of pesticide use in the cotton grower stage through its membership of the Better Cotton Initiative. The company developed a global water strategy that aims to reduce water use in its supply chain by applying the SAC Higgs Index. The company is part of the How2Recycle initiative. PVH Corp. is a member of Better Cotton Initiative and Textile Exchange. PVH has committed to sourcing 100% of its cotton sustainably by 2025. For the brand Tommy Hilfiger it has committed to source 100% sustainably by 2020.

UPTAKE

PVH publishes both the percentage and the absolute volume of sustainably sourced cotton. In 2017 - the most recent information available at the time of research for this ranking (July-September 2019) - the company sourced 33% of its cotton as sustainable cotton.

TRACEABILITY

In 2018, PVH sourced 113,237 metric tonnes of cotton. The company does not publish the countries of origin of its cotton. Nor does it publish a list of suppliers (finished products, fabric manufacturers, yarn manufacturers).